Agricultural potential

The land potential for agricultural production is 18,971 thousand hectares or 84% of the total area of the community.

Leading agricultural producers:

UApple - is one of the largest companies producing apples in Ukraine, which grow their products for export to the countries of the European Union, Asia and the Middle East.

FG "Bachus" - grows niche and non-seasonal vegetables, greens and salad mixes... There are more than three dozen names in the assortment. They also have their own processing, and part of the products are preserved.

FG "Vitaly" - is a producer of fruit and vegetable products. The farm is large-scale, multi-disciplinary and completely organic. The process of collection, processing and storage of products meets all the requirements of organic certification. It is the largest producer of organic watermelons and melons in the region.

Economic potential

LLC "UKRAINIAN SYSTEMS SOLAR" - the company has been implementing alternative energy systems for more than 10 years, which has built a powerful park on the territory of the community, which provides the needs of one of the villages of the community.

Pasta factory "Zakroma" is a certified manufacturer of pasta products, produces 14 formats of pasta products. The raw material for the production of pasta products is Ukrainian wheat of the highest grade from local farms.

The company "Agrotek-invest" is a leading dealer of agricultural machinery in Ukraine for about 15 years. Today, the company's team reports that more than 12,000 units of the implemented equipment are already working in the fields of Ukraine.

FG "Gayvoronskoho" is the leader of the community in the cultivation of grain and oil crops, on the basis of which a grain elevator for cleaning, drying and storing grain operates. The experience of the farm is more than 30 years

TOURISM

The lands of the Pidhorodne community were used by Zaporizhzhya Cossacks. They began to settle with Zaporozhians especially actively after the destruction of Zaporozhye Sich by Catherine II in 1775. Before the arrival of the Bolsheviks, the German Mennonite colony Kronsgarten was also located on these lands.

The community has a unique Kobzar Art Center, which continues the art of Kobzars - folk musicians and singers, who raised the fighting spirit of the Cossacks with their singing when they went into battle.

In 2016, Cossack songs became the property of the intangible cultural heritage of UNESCO and are under protection.

Cultural heritage

The folklore and ethnographic group "Krynytsia" has existed since 1989. The repertoire of "Krynytsia" includes historical, Cossack, household, Chumat, shooting, recruiting, and wedding songs that have been sung in the city of Pidhorodne for a long time. The team independently found little-known songs among the older generation, revived carols, Christmas carols and various religious songs, as well as folk rites and traditions of the native land.

Challenges of war

In the first 3 days of the full-scale invasion, the community became:

- ❑ a reliable humanitarian hub for more than 5,000 people who were transiting to the western regions;
- ❑ sheltered more than 3,000 internally displaced persons.

Pidhorodne community helps...

UAH 8 million / EUR 200.00 K	transferred to support the army
UAH 1 million / EUR 25.00 K	transferred to support the State Emergency Service of Ukraine
UAH 320.00 K / EUR 8 K	transferred for the treatment of seriously wounded soldiers
UAH 14.5 million / EUR 362.5 K	transferred to families whose defender is at the front line

- One specialist of the social department is attached to military families. His duties include keeping in constant contact, collecting needs and facilitating the organization of targeted assistance.

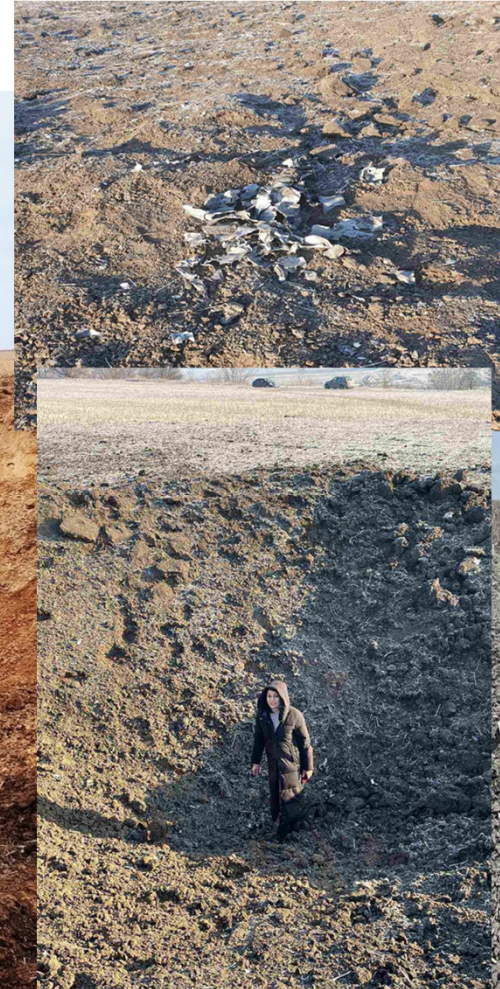

Agricultural land in the fire of war

In the Pidhorodnenska community, agricultural land suffers the most from the hostilities.

Farmers are constantly finding shells, debris and craters left behind in their fields.

But despite the shelling, farmers continue to sow crops.
